

State Legislature passes domestic partnership bill

The Associated Press
Published April 11, 2007

The National Gay and Lesbian Task Force applauded five gay lawmakers in the Washington Legislature for their work in passing a domestic partnership bill. The task force says it proves the benefit of building political power and electing supportive lawmakers. The task force says it looks forward to eventual approval of gay marriage.