

Gay GOP group joins call for senator's resignation

August 29, 2007

NEW YORK (AP) - The nation's largest gay Republican group -- the Log Cabin Republicans -- is joining those calling for Senator Larry Craig to resign because of his guilty plea in a men's room police sting operation.

And as the Republican political establishment distances itself from Craig, gay activists are expressing their contempt for Craig's "I'm not gay" comments. They say the lawmaker's response is a tragic entanglement of denial and hypocrisy.

The executive director of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force says Craig's case portrays "the tragedy of homophobia." Matt Foreman says some people create walls that separate themselves from who they really are.
